

Family scholarship for female scientists with a child during the end of their doctoral studies

The UMG supports female scientists (including students) with children in the final phase of their doctorate (approx. 3 months before submission) with a financial allowance of 300 € per month for a maximum of 3 months.

The measure is intended to facilitate the compatibility of family and scientific career. Funds are available for this purpose within the framework of the Professorinnenprogramm III.

Requirements:

- > For the period of funding, you must be registered as a (doctoral) student at the UMG or have registered the doctorate at the UMG.
- > The submission of the dissertation should take place soon after the end of the funding period.
- > You should provide a brief description of how you expect to use the funds.

Application is possible on an open basis.
